2.3.3. Issuer's obligations from the security provided to third persons

The total liabilities arising from the security provided and total liabilities of the third parties, on the basis of which the Company provided the security, including in the form of collateral or surety.

	As of 30.06.2007
liabilities value, total, (thous. rubles)	8 257 844
including:
value of pledged property, (thousand rubles)	772 890
amount of surety of third parties, (thousand rubles)	1 460 296
Value of bill of exchange issued (thousand rubles)	6 024 658

The issuer's liabilities to provide security to the third parties (including in the form of collateral or surety), accounting for not less than 5% of the book value of the assets (5% of the book value of the assets amounts to 2,363,305 thous. rubles) as of 30.06.2007:

JSCB Promsvyazbank – amount of security in the form of bills of exchange issued makes 4,000,733 thous. rubles. Performance date coincides with bills redemption dates: 07.09.09, 07.09.10, 07.09.11.

The risk of non-performance by third parties of obligations to creditors is assessed by the Company as low. The main factors which may lead to worsening of financial position of the third party and its default are:

- unsteadiness of current economic situation;
- unexpected increase in tax rates;
- fluctuations of market prices for the material resources and services used;
- change of market conditions.

2.3.4. Other issuer's obligations

As of 30.06.2007 the Company did not enter in any agreements and had no other obligations which are not recorded in RAS financial statements and which can materially influence the financial position of the Company, its liquidity, financing sources and conditions of its use, performance and expenses.

2.4. Purposes of the issue and areas of use of funds obtained from placement of issue securities

In 2nd quarter of 2007 OJSC «CenterTelecom» didn't make any placements of emission securities.

2.5. The risks connected with acquisition of issue securities being placed (already placed)

The Company implements policy aimed at mitigation of risks connected with its activity. The main ways to mitigate risk influence on the company's activity are diversification of services provided, change in structure of the service provided to maximize profits, exchange rate hedge under currency loan agreements, control over significant part of the Company's expenditures. The Company is building a risk management system, checks and assesses the efficiency of existing internal control system, its improvement.

2.5.1. Industrial risks

The major risk factors that the Issuer takes into account when conducting its business include:

1. Ongoing processes of integration of alternative telecommunication companies into large international holdings.

2. Due to alterations in legal and regulatory documents on telecommunications, CenterTelecom OJSC has become an operator of zonal telephone communication network since January 01, 2006, and revenues from international and long-distance communications are not owned by the Company.

It should be noted that CenterTelecom OJSC takes possible negative impacts of the said risks into account and makes efforts to overcome them.

CenterTelecom OJSC implements the marketing strategy, the major objective of which is to maintain the market share for conventional services, to increase profitability of unregulated telecommunication services, as well as to enhance company's competitiveness on the telecommunications market.

Impairment of the situation in the industry and position of the Issuer on the market may be caused by the following economic factors:

- decrease in demand on the part of the business sector due to drop in world prices for energy carriers and non-ferrous metals;
- general output decrease and economic growth slowdown;
- excess of Ruble devaluation rate over tariffs growth rate, which will result in considerable increase in negative exchange differences and in cost of servicing debentures expressed in foreign currencies;
- competition growth in the mobile communication industry from the part of Russian and foreign operators; expansion of mobile operators offering competitive formats on the market;
- Company's payments for termination of traffic to the network of other operators in accordance with the Federal Law "On Telecommunications";
- economic risks inherent for the Russian Federation in general, including the level of macroeconomic instability in the country, probability of alterations in laws, which may result in decrease in the Issuer's profits or increasing austerity of the procedure for withholding tax imposition;
- changes in contractual relationships with Rostelecom OJSC, where revenues from international and long-distance communication services are not owned by the Company.

In the framework of implementing the Government's measures on telecommunication industry restructuring (liberalization of the long haul telecommunications market), the Issuer has been using a new scheme of interaction with Rostelecom OJSC when providing long-distance and international communication services to users since January 2006. Relationships with Rostelecom OJSC are governed by connection agreement and agreement on the Issuer's providing paid services to Rostelecom OJSC.

In accordance with the connection agreement, the Issuer provides traffic transfer services to Rostelecom OJSC and receives connection services from Rostelecom OJSC (due to which expenses on servicing connection nodes arise); as a result, long-distance and international calls and information exchange between users of the interacting electric communication networks become possible.

Due to provision of long-distance and international communication services to the Users by Rostelecom OJSC, services on traffic transfer mean:

- service on termination of a zonal call to the Connected operator's network;
- service on termination of a zonal call to the Operator's network;
- service on initiation of a zonal call from the Connected operator's network;
- service on initiation of a zonal call from the Operator's network.

In accordance with the cooperation agreement with Rostelecom OJSC, the Issuer carries out:

- processing of a subscriber's order when providing it with access to international and long-distance communication services;
- billing processing of long-distance and international communication services;
- preparation, storage and delivery of necessary documents and reporting forms;
- activities on claims, actions and execution;
- collection of payments from subscribers, as well as information and inquiry services.

Change in scheme for interaction with connected operators in 2006

In accordance with the regulatory legal acts in force from January 1, 2006, the procedure for settlements with connected operators has also considerably changed.

Before January 1, 2006, settlements for connection and traffic transfer services in part of local telephone communication were of unilateral nature; in part of international, long distance and intrazone telephone communication the connected operators received a part of revenues from such services depending on the level of participation in technological process of servicing.

Since January 1, 2006, settlements for connection and traffic transfer services in provision of all types of telephone communication services are of mutual nature and include the following types of payments: payment for node arrangement; payment for node servicing; payment for each minute of the traffic transferred.

Thus, along with additional revenues from connection and traffic transfer services with operators of mobile radiotelephone communication, local and zonal communication, the Company incurs additional expenses related to payments to operators for traffic transfer through the operator's network.

Compliance with the above said requirements will require the Company to make additional capital investments.

Connection and traffic transfer agreements are made with operators of long distance and international telephone communication: Rostelecom OJSC, MTT OJSC, SCS Sovintel Ltd., TransTeleCom Company CJSC, Ekvant Ltd., ARKTEL OJSC, O.S.S. – Telecom LLC, Sinterra CJSC and Investelektrosvyaz CJSC.

At present, the Company proceeds with the contracting campaign on renewal of the acting agreements with the connected operators.

Moreover, connection and traffic transfer have become services, prices for which are regulated by the state. Correspondingly, the procedure for their formation, including defining margin that is taken into account in such prices, is determined by the relevant regulatory authority.

Important operator status

In accordance with the orders of the Federal Service for Surveillance in Communication No. 39, dated October 21, 2005, Nos. 40 and 31, dated October 24, 2005, and No. 52, dated December 22, 2005, the Company is included in the Register of operators that take important position in the public telecommunications network.

Telecommunication operator that takes important position in the public telecommunications network must provide services of connection and traffic transfer to any telecommunications operator, which applies to it; no preferences should be given to one telecommunications operator against another. Refusal of the operator taking important position in the public telecommunications network to enter into an agreement on connection of electric communication networks is not allowed, except for the cases when connection of electric communication networks and interactions thereof are in conflict with conditions of licenses issued to telecommunications operators, or with legal regulatory acts that define structure and functioning of the unified electric communication network in the Russian Federation.

Universal telecommunication services

Based on the results of the competition, and in accordance with the resolution of the competition committee of the Federal Telecommunications Agency, in March 2007 the Company was declared the winner of the competitions for providing universal telephone communications with the use of coin-box telephones in the territory of Ivanovo, Kostroma and Yaroslavl Regions. Earlier, in 2006, the Issuer was declared the winner of the competitions for providing the above said services in the territory of Belgorod, Tula, Smolensk and Tver Regions of the Russian Federation.

At present tender conditions are met and the services are being provided in Belgorod, Smolensk and Tula Regions. Pay-phone for universal services should be installed in Ivanovo, Kostroma and Yaroslavl Regions during 2007.

Tariffs for telecommunication services

The order of the Federal Tariff Service of Russia dated November 14, 2006, No. 261-s/2 introduced new rating system for local telephone connections since February 1, 2007.

Since 01.02.2007 monthly payment for local telephone communication services consists of mandatory payments for Provision of subscriber line to permanent use service and Local telephone connection service (one of the payment systems selected).

If it is technically possible to take into account duration of local phone connection, the Company established:

For individual subscribers – three mandatory tariff plans (time, subscriber and combined payment system);

For legal entity subscribers – one mandatory tariff plan (time payment system).

If it not is technically possible to take into account duration of local phone connection, all subscribers have one tariff plan with custom system of service payment calculated based on the average duration of local phone connection.

Simultaneously with introduction of new tariffs and rating plans for local telecommunications, tariffs for intrazone calls will be reduced by 5% during peak loads from 08 am until 08 pm on the tariff zone 2 for all user categories.

Compensatory allowance was decreased since 01.02.2007 and makes RUR 0.50 per minute. This allowance is to be applied to the cost of local and zonal call initiation for the purpose of long-distance and international telephone connections. This allowance has been applied since January 1, 2006, and enables operators to cover losses arising through providing regulated services of local telephone communications.

Cancellation of payment for incoming calls

The Federal Law dated March 03, 2006, No.32-FZ “About Amendment of Article 54 of the Federal Law dated July 07, 2003, No. 126-FZ ‘About Telecommunications’” has amended clause 1, Article 54 in part of prohibition of payment for telephone connection by a subscriber, if such connection has resulted from another subscriber's call. The Company applied to the Federal Tariff Service with a request to establish tariffs for intrazone connections of fixed subscribers with subscribers of mobile radiotelephone networks operators, which had been approved by the order of the Federal Tariff Service dated June 19, 2006, No. 123-s/1. Therefore, in the first quarter of 2007, the Company's revenues from services of intrazone telephone communication continued to increase, and additional expenses on payment for termination of calls to the mobile operator appeared.

In case of negative developments of the situation, the Issuer plans to use competitive advantages. The Issuer's competitiveness factors include:

- multiple destination network infrastructure;
- high quality of services provided.

Moreover, the Issuer plans to:

- optimize operating costs structure;
- review the Company's investment program;
- adjust the Company's pricing and marketing policies;
- change the structure of the services provided to maximize profits.

CenterTelecom OJSC manages risks related to the Company's activities. In general, impact of the industry risks on the Issuer's business and performance on securities can be assessed as minimal. The Company has unified network infrastructure in the territory of Central Federal District. This enables the Company to provide a wide range of services on the telecommunications market, remain a competitive company and increase services profitability.

Risks related to possible change in prices for raw materials, services used by the Issuer in its activities, and their impact on the Issuer's activities and performance on securities

Such risks, primarily, include risks related to changing tariffs of long haul telecommunications operators, as well as alterations in cost of equipment with major suppliers. Such risks may result in increase in product (services) cost.

Risks related to possible change in prices for the Issuer's products and/or services (on domestic and external markets separately), and their impact on the Issuer's activities and performance on securities

State regulation of the telecommunications industry brings about risks and uncertainty related to changes in tariffs and decrease in amounts of cross-subsidizing, which are common for all interregional companies, in the Issuer's activities. Changes in tariffs for natural monopolist operators' services require approval of the antimonopoly authorities of the Russian Federation. Therefore they may lack behind changes in actual economic situation and changes in operators' costs. Thus, there is risk of untimely changes in tariffs for natural monopolists, which diminish their competitiveness and may have negative impact on operations profitability.

The reform in pricing for telecommunications envisages bringing in 2005 - 2007 of tariffs for regulated public telecommunication services (except for universal services) to the level ensuring compensation of reasonable expenses and recovery of standard profit and transition by January 1, 2008 to regulation of tariffs for public telecommunication services using the marginal pricing approach. Work on the tariff policy alteration is carried out jointly with Svyazinvest OJSC holding, the Ministry of Information Technologies and Telecommunications of the Russian Federation, and the Federal Tariff Service.

In such conditions, CenterTelecom OJSC will actively promote services provided on unregulated tariffs thereby preventing considerable decrease in revenues.

2.5.2. Country and Regional Risks

1. Country risks (risks related to possible military conflicts, introduction of state of emergency, and strikes)

Sociopolitical situation in Russia, including the territory of the Central Federal District (CDF), where the Issuer operates, will become more acute.

This is first of all related to preparation for, and conduct of, elections to the State Duma and actual commencement of the 2008 presidential campaign. Therefore, there will be a certain change in positions (regrouping) of political and industrial forces and social and political direction.

Therefore, the risk of political, social, financial, economic factors of the country risk is likely to rise.

However, adverse changes which can influence activities and economic position of the Issuer in CFD in Q3 2007 are not forecasted yet.

2. Regional risks

Regional policy

It forms conditions and opportunities at the territory of CFD for conduct of business by the Issuer. This region is the most stable and attractive (relatively low risk level) which allows to make a positive forecast in relation to the Issuer's activities.

Risks related to geographic features of the region (natural emergencies)

All regions of the Central Federal District are at risk of extraordinary circumstances of natural character in Q3. The Bryansk, Voronezh, Kursk, Lipetsk, Tambov, Tver, Tula regions are the most vulnerable to extraordinary circumstances of natural character.

Dangerous weather events

Possibility of emergencies caused by convective processes (extreme temperatures, heavy precipitations, winds, tornado and twisters) will remain in Q3 2007.

Deviations of climate conditions from ordinary ones can lead to catastrophes with disorders in normal life of populated areas and in functioning of telecommunications, however, this will not significantly influence the Issuer's activity and economic position.

Natural fires

Possibility of negative development of forest fire situation remains in Q3. Growing risk of large-scale natural fires is forecasted in Bryansk, Vladimir, Ivanovo, Kaluga, Kostroma, Moscow, Ryazan, Tver, Tula and Yaroslavl Regions. Increase in temperatures is sure to lead to growth of duration of natural fires, their scale and extension of geography.

3. Risks related to development pressure emergencies

The highest vulnerability to development pressure emergencies is forecasted for Voronezh, Vladimir, Kaluga, Lipetsk, Moscow, Tambov, Tver and Tula Regions.

The following risks will dominate in general structure of development pressure emergencies in the 3rd quarter of 2007:

- major transport accidents;
- accidents at communal life-support systems;
- accidents at electric power systems.

The biggest number of fires is forecasted for Moscow and Moscow Region.

It is forecasted that likelihood of emergencies at housing and communal facilities in Central Federal District (Ivanovo, Tambov and Tver Regions) will continue.

The negative tendency towards high transport accident rate with heavy consequences will remain especially at federal M-2 (Simferopol), M-4 (Don), Moscow and Moscow Region.

Accidents at electric power systems, communal life-support systems (including fires) may entail financial losses and additional financial expenditures for the Issuer.

Development pressures situation in the territory of Central Federal District will remain quite complex. It does not exclude a possibility of emergencies as a result of accidents at various potentially hazardous industrial facilities. This may lead to occurrence of:

- property risks (possibility of property loss by the Issuer);
- industrial risks (loss from production downtime, loss or damage to fixed or current assets, introduction of new devices and technologies into production process);
- trade risks (payment delays, payment refusal, etc).

Financial losses will be very high for the Issuer.

Loss recovery will be at the expense of the Issuer's equity and borrowings.

Conclusion:

In general, the situation will be characterized as positive in the 3rd quarter of 2007. This will allow the Issuer to conduct its business with minimum risks, even with possible increase in expenses during the pre-elections period.

2.5.3. Financial Risks

Issuer's risk exposure related to interest rates variations

The rate of coupon yield on series 05 bonded loan may be changed by the Company beginning from the fifth coupon subject to alterations in the financial market situation, or changes in the Company financial standing. As the share of the above liability accounts for 14.3% of the total debt portfolio, modification of the loan rate will not materially affect the Company financial position. For instance, in the event that the rate of coupon yield increases by 1% per annum, the average rate for the borrowings portfolio will grow by 0.14% per annum. Therefore, the risk related to changes in interest rates on the Company's liabilities is insignificant.

Issuer's financial standing exposure to changes in the rate of exchange and foreign exchange rate; Issuer's supposed response to the adverse impact of changes in the rate of exchange

CenterTelecom OJSC has a number of loan and credit commitments, commodity credit and leasing liabilities denominated in foreign currency, and a considerable change in the rate of exchange will affect the company's financial standing. At the end of Q2 of 2007 the scope of liabilities denominated in foreign currency will account for approximately 16.4 % of the total indebtedness.

In case of any implications for a considerable change in the exchange rate, the Issuer plans to hedge foreign currency risks on currency credit agreements for the purpose of mitigating the exposure impact. Since according to analytical forecasts the drop in the Ruble exchange rate with regard to the leading world currencies is not expected in 2007, the Company is not currently hedging its currency borrowings.

Inflation impact on dividend payments on securities. Inflation points critical for the Issuer

The inflation rate expected in 2007 will count within the limits of 8.5%. For the H1 inflation level was 5.7%. Critical inflation points which may affect the financial and economic performance of CenterTelecom OJSC are significantly higher than the expected ones.

CenterTelecom OJSC is ranked as a natural monopoly and its primary source of revenue is revenues from telecommunication services with state-regulated tariffs. CenterTelecom OJSC practical experience in the past years shows that tariffs modification is effected by the state in line with the inflation rates.

A substantial part of Company's operating expenses is comprised by costs associated with salary payment, unified social tax payment, and other personnel expenses. In its ordinary course of business the Company is able to control the level of such costs, which allows the conclusion of a zero effect of moderate inflation on the variation of the above expenditures.

Therefore, subject to inflation confined to the critical rates, the revenues of CenterTelecom OJSC will on the one hand, increase according to the tariffs growth, and on the other hand, its operating and non-operating expenses will also rise. However, due to the Issuer's capability of controlling a significant part of its expenditures (Company controlled costs) CenterTelecom OJSC is able to balance its financial and economic indicators and cash flows, thus ensuring its financial solvency and the profit level.

Items of the Issuer's financial statements most susceptible to variation

The items of the Issuer's financial statements which are most susceptible to variation as a result of financial risks affecting the Issuer's financial statements, the likelihood of their occurrence and the specificity of changes in the accounts are described below:

Profit and Loss Account

010 “Proceeds from sale of goods, products, work and services”
020 “Cost of goods, products, work and services sold”
070 “Interest expense”
120 “Extraordinary income”
130 “Extraordinary charges”
140 “Profit (Loss) before taxes”.

Probability of financial exposure

At the moment, the probability of financial exposure is not too high, as the Issuer is enjoying good financial standing, and the currency market and the national business environment on the whole are fairly stable.

Nature of accounting variations which may be necessitated by financial exposure

Inflation impact

A significant escalation of inflation (above the critical points) in the absence of necessary actions relating to the Issuer’s activity management may cause an increase in the cost of sold goods, products (works and services) reported in line 020 of form 2 “Profit and Loss Account” of the financial statements and consequently, a reduction in the profit (loss) figures reported in line 140 of form 2.

In the event that the Issuer takes adequate measures in view of the inflation rate, its escalation may have no material influence on the Issuer's performance.

Impact of interest rate variation

A substantial increase in the rate of coupon yield on series 05 bonds may cause an increase in the interest expenses, i.e. in the figure reported in line 070 of form 2 “Profit and Loss Account” and consequently, a reduction in the profit reported in line 140 of form 2.

Impact of exchange rate variation

A substantial increase in the exchange rate of the foreign currencies in which the Company exchange commitments are denominated versus the ruble exchange rate may result in substantial growth of exchange differences and will eventually reduce the profit (line 140 of form 2).

2.5.4. Legal Risks

CenterTelecom OJSC carries out its core activities as a telecommunication carrier without exporting the services rendered as well as works or goods provided. Therefore, legal risks are mainly associated with the Company's performance on the domestic market.

In general, legal risks connected with the Company’s activity are typical of most business entities active in the Russian Federation and may be considered as country-wide.

Legal risks related to changes in the currency laws

Risks connected with possible change in currency control are now deemed minimal by the Company as the changes introduced are aimed at liberalization of the currency control laws.

Legal risks related to changes in the tax laws

During the reporting period a number of federal laws introducing amendments into the tax laws came into force but since CenterTelecom OJSC is a good taxpayer, and is in compliance with tax laws provisions, such changes and amendments to the tax laws of the Russian Federation have not entailed any excessive risks for it.

Legal risks related to changes in the customs laws

Main part of purchased equipment for provision of services is imported or made of components produced abroad. For this reason change in customs control rules and dues may pose certain risks for the Company connected with increase in process of the purchased fixed assets.

During the reporting period, the Issuer bore no excessive risks related to customs clearing when performing contracts with foreign counterparts.

Legal risks related to changes in requirements to licensing the Issuer's core activities or use of objects with limited circulation

In connection with reorganization of the Federal Service for Supervision of Mass Communication and Cultural Heritage Protection and Federal Service for Supervision of Communication into the Federal Service for Supervision of Mass Communication, Communication and Cultural Heritage Protection (Decree of the President of the Russian Federation dated March 12, 2007 No. 320 "On Federal Service for Supervision of Mass Communication, Communication and Cultural Heritage Protection") there is a risk of increase in time for consideration of applications to prolong licenses for main types of activities of OJSC CenterTelecom. At the same time, increase in the said period is not likely to affect timely receipt of licenses by the Company. The said licenses expire in November 2007.

Legal risks that may arise due to changes in judicial practice over the reporting period

Changes in judicial practice with regard to the issues concerning the activities of CenterTelecom OJSC are possible in connection with the enforcement of:

- amendments to Articles 21, 51.1., 59, 60 of the Federal Law No. 126-FZ, dated July 07, 2003 "On Telecommunications" since January 1, 2007;

- the Regulations for Rendering Telecommunication Services for Television and (or) Radio Broadcasting Purposes and the Regulations for Connection and Interaction of Telecommunication Networks for Distribution of Television and (or) Radio Programs approved by the Decree of the Government of the Russian Federation No. 785, dated December 22, 2006, and the Decree of the Government No. 760, dated December 13, 2006, respectively, since March 1, 2007;

- Federal Law No. 14-FZ dated February 9, 2007 "On amendments to the Federal Law "On Telecommunication" since August 14, 2007;

- other legal regulatory acts imposing mandatory requirements to connection of telecommunication networks and building a public telephone network, traffic transfer and rendering telecommunication services.

In connection with enforcement of the above listed legal regulatory acts, there are risks related to emergence of totally new (in terms of subject) categories of legal proceedings with the likelihood of awarding adverse judgments both with regard to the Company and its counterparts.

However, possible changes in the judicial practice are unlikely to affect the performance of CenterTelecom OJSC on its core activities and its financial and economic status, since the aggregate amount of actions brought against the Company by the end of the reporting quarter is insignificant.

2.5.5. Risks related to the Issuer's activities

Risks related to participation of CenterTelecom OJSC in the current legal proceedings:

At the moment, CenterTelecom OJSC is a party to a number of cases that concern issues of its current activities. These cases do not imply any risk of awarding adverse judgments in excess of a normal risk typical of telecommunication carrier's activities.

In our opinion, the following actions may be deemed material:

- actions with the price below or equal to 10% of CenterTelecom's assets book value, which amounts to RUR 4,639,306 thousand as of March 31, 2007;

- actions that hamper conducting business or aim at its prohibition or winding up (actions that aim at liquidation, adjudication of insolvency (bankruptcy) of CenterTelecom OJSC and its subsidiary and affiliated companies, challenging rights arising from licenses or patents, recovery of substantial debt arrears on taxes and duties to the budget and extra-budgetary funds).

Over the reporting period, CenterTelecom OJSC did not participate in any legal proceedings that would meet the above criteria.

As a result, it is safe to say that there are no substantial legal risks related to participation of CenterTelecom OJSC in the current legal proceedings.

Risks related to impossibility to extend licenses may arise as a result of:

- 1) changes in provisions of the acting laws on licensing;
- 2) restructuring of licensing authorities.

At present such risks are considered minimal by the Company.

Risks related to the Issuer's probable liability under third-party debts, including debts of its subsidiary companies: No such risks.

Risks related to probable customers attrition that account for at least 10% of the total revenues from sale of the Issuer's products (works, services): No such risks

OJSC CenterTelecom renders services of access to the public telephone network, services of long-distance and international telephone connection, Internet and data transmission network services, communication channel lease services, wire services, etc.

The procedure recommended by the Russian Federal Service for Financial Markets was used for calculation of the above indicators.

In Q2 2007 as compared to Q2 2006 revenue increased 1.2 times and made RUR 7,957.8 mln. (6,755.6 mln. – Q2 2006).

Due to the increase in income from intrazone communication, increase in number of users of broadband Internet access, and main stations Q2 2007 saw the continuation of growth of gross profit - - RUR 2,288.2 mln. (1,880.4– Q2 2006).

Net profit grew by 21.5% and made RUR 0.662 mln. In Q2 2007 via RUR 0.545 mln. In Q2 2006, which influenced the growth of indexes: return on equity – 3.5% (3,2% - Q2 2006), return on assets – 1.4% (1.2% - Q2 2006), return on products (sales) – 28.8% (27.8% - Q2 2006). Turnover ration for the reporting period made 0.21 times.

During the reporting period the issuer has no uncovered loss so the uncovered loss and balance sheet total indexes are not calculated.

4.1.2. Factors Influencing Changes of Revenue from the Issuer's Sales of Commodities, Products, Works and Services and the Issuer's Profit (Losses) from the Main Activity

Factors which, according to the issuer's regulatory bodies, influenced changes of revenue from the issuer's sales of commodities, products, works and services and the issuer's profit (losses) from the main activity over the reporting quarter:

Factor	Evaluation of influence of the following factors
	Q1 2007
Inflation influence	low
Change of foreign currency rates	low
Decisions of public bodies	high
Increased number of rendered services	high
Increased net cost	average

4.2. Liquidity of the Issuer, sufficiency of the capital and current assets

Name of indicator	H 1 2007
Own current assets, thousand rubles	- 20 265 953
Permanent asset indicator	2,12
Current liquidity ratio	0,93
Fast liquidity ratio	0,64
Own assets autonomy factor	0,40

The procedure recommended by the Russian Federal Service for Financial Markets was used for calculation of the above indicators.

Liquidity indicators characterize the issuer's ability to fulfill its short-term obligations. The essence of these indicators is in comparison on the Issuer's current obligations and its own assets which shall provide for liquidation of obligations.

Growth of current and fast liquidity ratios continued in H1 2007 as compared to H1 2006 mainly due to significant reduction of share of current liabilities in the total amount of borrowings: current liquidity ratio made 0.93 times in H1 2007, while it was 0.31 times in H1 2006; fast liquidity ratio made 0.64 times in H1 2007, while it was 0.21 times in H1 2006).

In H1 2007 permanent asset index decreased as compared with the preceding period and made 2.12 times (H1 2006 – 2.24 times) due to the growth of equity and reserves mainly through increase in net profit while the non-current asset value was stable.

The growth of equity and reserves and the debt load optimization strategy implemented by the issuer influence positively the dynamics of equity autonomy factor.

The trends of all the above indexes in H1 2007 remain the same as compared to the same period of the preceding year.

The issuer does not consider the spread between the current assets and the current obligations to be a risk because it has open credit limits in commercial banks. Besides, the fact that this gap became smaller in H1 2007 as compared to H1 2006 is positive.

Analysis of the financial position of the issuer allows to draw a conclusion on the trend for positive dynamics of the majority of the liquidity and financial stability indexes under review and on improvement of performance by the issuer. Financial strategy of the Company approved by the issuer in 2006 is aimed at further optimization and reduction of debt load in 2007-2009 and it provides for further improvement of balance sheet structure which will mean increase in the level of liquidity.

4.3. Value and structure of the Issuer's capital and current assets

4.3.1. Value and structure of the Issuer's capital and current assets

	As of 30.06.2007

Additional capital, thous. rubles.	70 946
Retained net profit, thous. rubles.	11 947 537
Total amount of the issuer's capital, thous. rubles.	18 497 859

Structure and size of the issuer's current assets according to the Issuer's financial statements:

Name of indicator	Unit of measurement	As of 30.06.2007

	%%	6,6
Other current assets	thousand rubles	3 993

	%%	0,1
Total	%%	100
Total amount of current assets	thousand rubles	8 053 309

In H1 2007 in the structure of the issuer's assets the share of current assets grew as compared to the same period of the previous year which is mainly caused by growth of prepaid expenses and short-term financial investments.

The sources of current assets financing are generally profits from the main activity, as well as short-term bank credits.

Factors which can bring changes in the current assets financing policy:

- change of accounts receivable level, reserve level, speed of the current assets turnover;
- changes connected with bank interest rate values;
- change of the level of market prices for production stocks and other types of inventory items;
- change of the level of prices at services rendered by the issuer.

Evaluation of possibility of such factors:

- the Issuer's policy of assets management in the part of accounts receivable and stocks is aimed at reduction of their level and turnover terms. Negative impact of this factor on the current assets financing practice is unlikely;

- cost of bank credits and refinance rate set by the Russian Federation Central Bank trend to reduction. Negative impact of this factor on the current assets financing practice is unlikely;

- prices for inventory items used by the Issuer in the course of its economic activity are not exposed to sharp market fluctuations. Negative impact of this factor on the current assets financing practice is unlikely;

- the Issuer's market strategy is aimed at expansion of its activity in the sectors with uncontrolled prices and rates. Negative impact of this factor on the current assets financing practice is unlikely.

4.5. Trend analysis of the core business of the Issuer

The main development trends of communications field and the main factors influencing the field:

Macroeconomic situation still remains favorable in the Central Federal District versus other Russian Federation regions. We observe positive dynamics of GDP growth.

Telecommunications field continues to preserve high development dynamics. According to the Russian Federation Ministry of Communication, in 2005 the income from communications (including cellular) services increased versus 2004 by 26%, and it is expected that in 2007 this index will make 123% versus the previous year. The field contribution in the GDP of the country comprised about 4.5%, in 2007 this index is expected to grow by 0.3%. Growth of income is conditioned not only by the increased communications service rates, but also by accretion of subscriber base and development of networks and communications services. Communication market growth in CFD without Moscow will make about 118% in 2007 as compared to 2006.

Total amount of the telecom services market of the CFD (including mobile operators and excluding Moscow) by the end of 2007 is expected to made some 80 billion rubles and in 2008 it will reach 92 billion rubles (49-50 billion rubles excluding cellular operators). Such growth is primarily conditioned by high rates of cellular communications and data transmission market development.

Over the last several years there exists a regular trend of redistributing a part of income from different communications services towards unconventional services, generally, mobile communications. The Central Federal District was not an exception.

In general, the field has a trend of communications service income growth.

Overall evaluation of the issuer's field activity results:

In the local communication sector OJSC «CenterTelecom» revenue share is to make some 86.5% in 2007 (excluding revenues of mobile operators). Share of OJSC «CenterTelecom» at the market of value added services in the CFD will amount to 38%, including 51% on the market of Internet broadband access.

Evaluation of results of the issuer's activity correspondence to the field development trends:

According to the work results of OJSC «CenterTelecom» in the 1st half-year of 2007 the growth of the main telephone sets comprised 32,340. The growth of income from communications services in the H1 of 2007 comparing with 2006 comprised 118.1%, share of new services revenues in the total amount of revenues went up and made 8.9 % according to the results of the half-year.

4.5.1. Analysis of factors and conditions influencing the issuer's activity

Forecast of the field further development:

According to the forecast of J'son&Partners, in 2007 the growth of local telephony market will not exceed 9-10%, and intrazone – 6-7%, at the same time growth of value added services market will amount to about 140%. The penetration of large alternative operators from Moscow to the regions will continue which will aggravate the situation with competition. The replacement of fixed communications with the cellular one registered over the last several years will continue but with slower rates. The above trend is conditioned by the planned reduction of the limit rate of common telephone network access for traditional operators on the one hand, and increased rates of outgoing calls from mobile telephones plus payment for connection with cellular operators on the other hand.

OJSC «CenterTelecom» considers possible negative consequences of the above risks and takes efforts to overcome them. In order to reduce negative effect of factors and conditions influencing the issuer's activity, it is planned to use the main competitive advantages.

The main factors and conditions influencing the issuer's activity and results of such work:

The list of the issuer's competitiveness factors:

branched network infrastructure;
high service quality.

The degree of their influence, according to the issuer, on the competitiveness of the produced commodities (works, services):

the branched infrastructure allows to render a full range of services, including services with usage of modern technical solutions, which increases the company's competitiveness the high quality service provides the company with a positive image and contributes to attracting new customers.

4.5.2. The issuer's competitors

The issuer's main competitors of the main activities and factors of the issuer's competitiveness:

Alternative carriers present at the CFD market may be conventionally divided into three types:

- national operators: MTS, MegaPhone, Beeline (all CFD), Corbina Telecom (Moscow, Voronezh, Kaluga, Tula, Yaroslavl regions), Golden Telecom (Voronezh and Tula regions), COMSTAR – United TeleSystems (Moscow, Kaluga, Ivanovo regions);

- department operators: Transtelecom (Bryansk, Kaluga, Kursk, Moscow, Orel, Ryazan, Smolensk, Tula regions), Mostransgaz;

- regional operators: KGTS (Kostroma region), LANK Telecom (Yaroslavl and Ivanovo regions), Oskolnet (Belgorod region), Informsvyaz (Voronezh region), etc.

The main competitors of OJSC «CenterTelecom» are national operators. Their joint share in the CFD ranges from 1.9 to 7.3%. Golden Telecom Company and Corbina successfully make progress in the CFD market, OJSC «Central Telegraph» and Comstar are successful in the Moscow region market.

The share of department operators («TransTelecom») is significant in the data services market.

As for companies rendering cellular communications services, they penetrate into neighboring segments of the communications services market, for example, Internet access services.

Local operators are not competitors to the interregional company, whereas their work is restricted by separate territories, but they are perspective partners of national and department operators and often make serious competition to OJSC «CenterTelecom»'s regional branches on the strategically important markets.

Change of market shares occupied, according to the issuer, by it and its competitors as of the end of the reporting quarter:

Name of company	Market share, %
CenterTelecom	74% (excluding mobile operators and Moscow)
TransTeleCom	7.3%
Golden Telecom	6.1%
Corbina	4.4
Comstar	1.9
Comincom	-

Procedure for determining yield payable on each bond

Coupon (interest) period		Amount of coupon (interest) yield
Commencement date	End date

Coupon 1: Rate of interest on the first coupon is fixed through an auction to determine rate of interest per annum on the first coupon as of the date of the Bonds placement commencement.

On the date of the Bonds placement commencement, the Moscow Interbank Currency Exchange carries out an auction to determine rate of interest on the first coupon among potential buyers of the Bonds. On the day of the auction, the Section Members submit bids, settlement code T0, through the trading and clearing systems of the Moscow Interbank Currency Exchange in accordance with the Trading Rules of the Securities Section of the Moscow Interbank Currency Exchange and other regulatory documents of the Moscow Interbank Currency Exchange both at their own expense, and at the expense and upon instructions of customers. Time and procedure for submission of bids for the auction to determine rate of interest on the first coupon are specified by the Moscow Interbank Currency Exchange upon agreement with the Issuer and/or the Underwriter. Bids are sent by the Section Members to the Underwriter’s address.

Each bid specifies annual rate of interest on the first coupon, at which the bidder is prepared to buy the Bonds in case of their placement at the price equal to 100 (One hundred) percent of the Bonds nominal value, as well as relevant number of the Bonds, which the bidder would like to buy, if the Issuer fixes rate of interest on the first coupon equal or higher than that specified in the bid. The rate of interest, at which the bidder is prepared to buy the Bonds, must be expressed in percent per annum to within 0.01 percent.

By the auction beginning, the Section Members reserve money on their trading accounts with the Settlement Chamber of the Moscow Interbank Currency Exchange in the amount sufficient for full payment for the Bonds specified in the bids taking into account commissions of the Moscow Interbank Currency Exchange.

Bids that do not meet the above requirements are not admitted to the auction to determine rate of interest on the first coupon of the Bonds.

Upon expiration of the period for bids submission for the auction to determine rate of interest on the first coupon, the Securities Market Section Members may not revoke their bids submitted.

Upon expiration of the period for bids submission, the Moscow Interbank Currency Exchange makes a single consolidated register of all the bids submitted to the Underwriter and not revoked by the Section Members as of the deadline for the bids submission (hereinafter the “Consolidated Bid Register”) and gives it to the Issuer and/or Underwriter.

The Consolidated Bid Register contains terms of every bid – purchase price, number of securities, date and time of the bid receipt, as well as name of the Section Member who submitted the bid. The Consolidated Bid Register/Bid Receipt Sheet is approved by financial consultant on the securities market.

The Issuer’s sole executive body, based on the total amount of bids submitted and rates of interest on the first coupon specified therein, makes a decision on the amount of rate of interest on the first coupon. The Issuer communicates the decision made to the Moscow Interbank Currency Exchange in writing not later than 30 minutes prior to sending information to the information agency. Upon the Issuer’s informing the information agency about the amount of rate of interest on the first coupon, the Issuer informs the Underwriter about the rate of interest on the first coupon. The Underwriter informs the Section Members about the rate of interest on the first coupon fixed by the Issuer through the trading system of the Moscow Interbank Currency Exchange by sending electronic messages to all the Section Members.

If the date of coupon yield payment on any of the ten Bond coupons falls on a day-off, whether an official public day-off or a day-off for settlement transactions, then the due amount is paid on the business day immediately following such day-off. The bondholder is not entitled to require accrual of interest or any other compensation for such a delay in payment.

On any day between the date of placement commencement and Bonds maturity date (date of the last part of the Bonds nominal value redemption) for this issue, the amount of accrued coupon yield (ACY) is calculated by the following formula:

$ACY = Nom * C_j * (T - T(j-1)) / (365 * 100\%)$, where:

j – coupon period sequence number, $j=1,2,\dots,9, 10$;

Nom – unredeemed part of one Bond nominal value as of the date of ACY calculation (RUR);

C_j – interest rate for the j -th coupon, percent per annum;

T – current date;

$T(j-1)$ – the j -th coupon period commencement date.

ACY is calculated to one kopek (with rounding of the second decimal place according to mathematical rounding rules, namely: if the third decimal place equals to or exceeds 5, the second decimal place is increase by one; if the third decimal place is below 5, the second decimal place is left unchanged).

Procedure for determining interest rates on Bond coupons:

1) Interest rate on the first coupon is determined through an Auction at the Exchange among potential buyers of the Bonds on the date of the Bonds placement commencement in accordance with the procedure provided for by sub-clause 8.3 of the Resolution on issue and sub-clause 2.7. of the Prospectus.

2) If the Issuer's Board of Directors fails to make a decision on purchase of the Bonds from their holders along with approval of the Bonds placement commencement date, interest rates on the second and all subsequent coupons of the Bonds are fixed equal to the interest rate on the first coupon for the whole term of the Bonds circulation.

3) Along with approval of the Bonds placement commencement date, the Issuer's Board of Directors may make a decision on purchase of the Bonds upon demand of their holders, applications for purchase of which Bonds have been received from the bondholders in the procedure specified in clause 10 of the Resolution on issue, within at least 5 (Five) last days of the j -th coupon period ($j=1, 2,\dots,9$). If the Issuer's Board of Directors has made such a decision, interest rates on all the coupons of the Bonds, ordinal number of which is below or equal to j , is fixed equal to the interest rate on the first coupon. The said information, including ordinal numbers of the coupons, interest rate on which is fixed equal to the interest rate on the first coupon, period of Bonds purchase, as well as ordinal number of the coupon period (j), in which the bondholders may require the Issuer to purchase the Bonds, is communicated to potential purchasers of the Bonds by publishing a notice in the following

4) Interest rate on the coupons, amount (procedure for determination) of which has not been specified by the Issuer ($i=(j+1), \dots, 10$), is determined by the Issuer as a quantification as of the date of the j -th coupon determination, which should fall not later than 10 (Ten) calendar days prior to the j -th coupon period end. On the date of the j -th coupon determination, the Issuer is entitled to determine rates of any number of undetermined coupons following the i -th (where k is the number of the last of the coupons to be determined). Information about the amount of the interest rate on the i -th coupon is disclosed by the Issuer in the form of notice of essential facts "Information about accrued and (or) paid yields on the issuer's securities" and "Information about time of performance of the issuer's obligations to the securities holders" in the following procedure and time as from the date of drafting the minutes of meeting of the Issuer's authorized body, at which it has been decided to determine the amount of the relevant coupon of the Bonds;

Procedure for coupon (interest) yield payment:

Coupon yield on the Bonds is paid in the currency of the Russian Federation on a cashless basis to the persons specified in the List of bondholders and/or nominee names for the benefit of the bondholders. A bondholder who is not a depositor of the Depository may authorize a nominee name of the Bonds (hereinafter the Bondholder) to receive the amount of coupon yield paid on the Bonds.

It is presumed that Bondholders are authorized to receive coupon yield on the Bonds. Bondholders and /or other persons not authorized by their customers to receive coupon yield on the Bonds not later than on the 5^h (fifth) business day prior to the date of coupon yield on the Bonds payment transfer the list of bondholders to the Depository, which must contain all the details included in the List of Bondholders and/or Nominee Names, as specified below.

Coupon yield on the Bonds is paid for the benefit of Bondholders who are the same as of the end of the Depository's transaction day preceding the 6th (Sixth) business day prior to the date of coupon yield payment on the Bonds (hereinafter the "Date of Making List of Bondholders and/or Nominee Names for the purpose of coupon yield payment").

Performance of the obligations to the bondholder who is the same as of the Date of Making List of Bondholders and/or Nominee Names for the purpose of coupon yield payment is deemed proper, among other cases, in case of the Bonds disposal after the Date of Making List of Bondholders and/or Nominee Names for the purpose of coupon yield payment. If the bondholder's rights to the Bonds are accounted by a nominee name, and the nominee name is authorized to receive yield amounts on the Bonds, then the person authorized to receive yield on the Bonds is understood as the nominee name. If the bondholder's rights to the Bonds are not accounted by the nominee name or the nominee name is not authorized by the holder to receive amounts of coupon yield on the Bonds, the person authorized to receive amounts of coupon yield on the Bonds is understood as the bondholder.

If there are non-residents and/or individuals among the holders who have authorized the nominee name to receive coupon yield amounts on the Bonds, then the nominee name must specify the following information in the list of bondholders in relation to such persons:

- full name/last name, patronymic and first name of the Bondholder;
- number of the Bonds owned;
- full name of the person authorized to receive redemption amounts on the Bonds;
- Bondholder's location (or registration for individuals) and postal address, including postcode;
- bank details for account of the person authorized to receive redemption amounts on the Bonds;
- Bondholder's tax identification code (TIC);
- Bondholder's tax status;

if the Bondholder is non-resident legal entity:

- individual identification number (IIN) - if any;

if the Bondholder is an individual:

- type, number, date and place of issue of the identity document of the Bondholder, and name of the issuing authority;
- number of the state pension security certificate of the Bondholder (if any);
- TIC of the Bondholder (if any);
- date, month and year of birth of the Bondholder.

Not later than on the 3rd (third) business day prior to the date of coupon yield payment on the Bonds, the Depository furnishes the Issuer and/or the Paying Agent with the List of Bondholders and/or Nominee Names made as of the Date of Making List of Bondholders and/or Nominee Names, which List includes the following data:

- a) full name of the person authorized to receive coupon yield amounts on the Bonds;
- b) number of Bonds accounted on the securities account of the person authorized to receive coupon yield amounts on the Bonds;
- c) location and postal address of the person authorized to receive coupon yield amounts on the Bonds;
- d) bank details for the account of the person authorized to receive coupon yield amounts on the Bonds, namely:
 - account number;
 - name of the bank where the account is opened;
 - correspondent account of the bank where the account is opened;
 - bank identification code of the bank where the account is opened;
- e) taxpayer identification code (TIC) of the person authorized to receive coupon yield amounts on the Bonds;
- f) tax status of the person authorized to receive coupon yield amounts on the Bonds (resident, non-resident with permanent representative office in the Russian Federation, non-resident without permanent representative office in the Russian Federation, etc.).

The bondholder or the nominee name ensures that the bank details provided by them to the Depository are complete and up-to-date. In case of failure to submit or untimely submission of the said details to the Depository, obligations are performed to the person who set the claim on their performance and who is the bondholder as of the date of such claim. In such a case, the Issuer performs obligations on the Bonds based on the data of the Depository, and the Issuer's obligations are deemed performed in full and properly. If the bank details furnished by the bondholder or nominee name or available with the Depository do not allow the Paying Agent of the Issuer to transfer money according to them in a timely manner, such a delay in the Issuer's performance may not be deemed as deficit, and the bondholder is not entitled to require accrual of interest or any other compensation for such a delay in payment.

Not later than at 11 (Eleven) am of the business day preceding the day of coupon yield payment on the Bonds, the Issuer transfers necessary money to the Paying Agent's account.

Based on the List of Bondholders and/or Nominee Names submitted by the Depository, the Paying Agent calculates the amounts of money payable to every bondholder and/or nominee names authorized to receive coupon yield amounts on the Bonds.

On the date of coupon yield payment on the Bonds, the Paying Agent transfers money to pay coupon yield to bank accounts of the bondholders and/or nominee names specified in the List of Bondholders and/or Nominee Names. If one person is authorized to receive coupon yield amounts on the Bonds by several bondholders, then the total amount is transferred to such person without breakdown by amounts payable to each bondholder. Bondholders who are not owners of the Bonds transfer money to pay coupon yield to the bonds owners in the procedure specified by the bondholder and the bonds owner.

The Issuer's obligations on payment of the relevant coupon yield on the Bonds are deemed performed after debiting the Issuer's account and/or correspondent account of the Paying Agent for the amount of coupon yield payment for the benefit of the Bondholders.

PROCEDURE FOR INDIVIDUALS TAXATION.

Type of tax – income tax.

Income from sources in the Russian Federation include:

- dividends and interest received from Russian organization, as well as interest received from Russian sole proprietors and (or) foreign organization in relation to the activities of its permanent representative office in the Russian Federation;
- proceeds from sale of shares and other securities, as well as interest in authorized capital of organizations in the Russian Federation.

Tax base.

Taxpayer's income received in the form of material gain is material gain received from purchase of securities. Tax base is determined as exceed of securities market value to be measured taking into account marginal limit of securities market price fluctuations over the amount of taxpayer's actual expenses for their purchase. Procedure for determining securities market price and marginal limit of securities market price fluctuations is established by the federal authority that regulates the securities market.

When determining tax base for income from transactions with securities, proceeds from the following transactions are taken into account:

- sale and purchase of securities that are circulating on the organized securities market;
- sale and purchase of securities that are not circulating on the organized securities market.

Income (loss) from transactions on sale and purchase of securities is measured as the difference between amounts of proceeds received from sale of securities and documented expenses on purchase, sale and storage of securities that are actually incurred by the taxpayer, or property-related deductions that reduce proceeds from sale and purchase transaction.

The said expenses include:

- amounts paid to the seller in accordance with the agreement;
- payment for services provided by depository;
- commissions to professional participants of the securities market; discount paid (reimbursed) by managing company of unit investment fund in sale (redemption) of investment unit of the unit investment fund by the issuer to be determined in accordance with the procedure specified by the laws of the Russian Federation about investment funds;
- exchange charge (fees);
- payment for registrar's services;
- estate and (or) gift tax paid by the taxpayer upon receipt of securities to ownership;
- other expenses directly related to purchase, sale and storage of securities made for the services provided by professional participants of the securities market within their professional activities.

If the issuer entity carried out exchange (conversion) of shares, then in sale of shares received by the taxpayer as a result of exchange (conversion), documented expenses of the taxpayer include expenses on purchase of shares that the taxpayer owned prior to their exchange (conversion).

In sale of shares (interest, units) received by the taxpayer upon reorganization of the entity, expenses on their purchase include value to be determined in accordance with clauses 4 – 6, Article

277 of the Tax Code of the Russian Federation, provided expenses on purchase of shares (interest, units) of the entities reorganized are documented.

Income (loss) on transactions of sale and purchase of securities that circulate on the organized securities market, is decreased (increased) by the amount of interest paid for use of money borrowed for the purpose of securities purchase and sale within the amounts calculated based on the acting refinance rate of the Central Bank of the Russian Federation.

Amount of loss on transactions with securities that circulate on the organized securities market is measured taking into account marginal limit of securities market price fluctuations.

Securities that circulate on the organized securities market include securities admitted for circulation with trading arrangers that hold license of the federal authority regulating the securities market.

Market quotation of a security, including unit of unit investment fund that circulates on the organized securities market, is understood as average weighted price of the security on transactions carried out within a trading day through the trading arranger. If transactions on the same security were carried out through two and more trading arrangers, the taxpayer is entitled to choose market quotation of the security with one of such trading arrangers. If the trading arranger does not calculate average weighted price, average weighted price is taken as mean between the maximum and minimum prices of the transactions carried out within a trading day through this trading arranger.

Tax base is determined individually for each transaction.

Income (loss) on securities sale and purchase transactions is determined as a sum of proceeds from transactions with securities of the relevant category carried out within a taxation period less amount of losses.

If taxpayer's expenses for purchase, sale and storage of securities may not be referred directly to expenses on purchase, sale and storage of specific securities, the said expenses are distributed in proportion to the estimated value of the securities, to which the said expenses refer. Estimated value of the securities is determined as of the date of such expenses.

If taxpayer's expenses may not be confirmed with documents, he is entitled to enjoy property-related tax deduction provided for by the first paragraph, sub-clause 1, clause 1, Article 220 of the Tax Code. Property-related tax deduction or deduction in the amount of actually incurred and documented expenses is granted to the taxpayer in assessment and payment of tax to the budget at source of income (broker, trustee, managing company that holds in trust the property comprising unit investment fund, or with another person that carries out transactions on agency agreement or other similar agreement for the benefit of the taxpayer), or upon expiration of the taxation period by filing tax return to the tax authority.

If tax assessment and payment is carried out by income source (broker, trustee, managing company that holder in trust the property comprising unit investment fund, or with another person that carries out transactions on agency agreement or other similar agreement for the benefit of the taxpayer) during the taxation period, property-related tax deduction is granted by the income source with a possibility of further reassessment upon expiration of the taxation period by filing tax return to the tax authority.

In case of several income sources, property-related tax deduction is only granted with one income source, at taxpayer's option.

Tax base on securities purchase and sale (redemption of units of unit investment funds) is determined as income received based on the results of the taxation period on transactions with securities.

Loss on transactions with securities that circulate on the organized securities market that is received based on the results of the said transactions carried out during the taxation period, reduces the tax base on transactions of purchase and sale of securities of this category.

Income on transactions of purchase and sale of securities that do not circulate on the organized securities market, which as of the moment of their acquisition met the requirements specified for securities that circulate on the organized securities market, may be reduced by the amount of loss received in the taxation period on transactions of purchase and sale of securities that circulate on the organized securities market.

By sale of shares (interests, units) received by the taxpayer upon reorganization of entities, time of taxpayer's ownership of them runs from the date of acquisition of shares (interests, units) of the reorganized entities.

Date of actual income receipt is:

- the day of income payment, including transfer of income from taxpayer's bank account or upon its instructions to the accounts of third parties – for receipt of income in money;
- the day of securities acquisition – for receipt of income in the form of material gain.

Tax base on securities purchase and sale transactions and transactions with time-bargain financial instruments is determined upon expiration of the taxation period. Tax is assessed and paid by a tax agent upon expiration of the taxation period or by payment of money to the taxpayer prior to expiration of the next taxation period.

Tax agents are Russian organizations, from which or as a result of relationships with which the taxpayer received income. Tax agents are obliged to assess, withhold from the taxpayer and pay tax. If income source is a person that carries out transactions under agency agreement or another similar agreement for the benefit of the taxpayer, then responsibilities of tax agent are performed by the person that actually pays income to the taxpayer.

If tax agent pays money prior to expiration of the next taxation period, tax is paid from the share of income to be determined in accordance with this article that corresponds to actual amount of money to be paid. Share of income is measured as product of total amount of income and ratio of amount of payment to estimated value of the securities to be measured as of the date of payment, on which the tax agent acts as broker. In case of several payments of money to the taxpayer during the taxation period, amount of tax is calculated by progressive total with set-off of tax amounts earlier paid.

Estimated value of the securities is measured based on actually incurred and documented expenses for their purchase.

Payment of money is understood as payment of cash, transfer of money to an individual's bank account or account of a third party upon request of the individual.

If it is impossible to withhold the assessed tax from the taxpayer by source of income, tax agent (broker, trustee or another person that carries out transactions on agency agreement, commission agreement, another agreement for the benefit of the taxpayer) informs the tax authority at the place of its registration of impossibility of the said withholding and amount of taxpayer's debt in writing within one month as from the moment of such circumstance occurrence. In such a case, tax is paid in accordance with Article 228 of the Tax Code.

1) if the securities are admitted to circulation by at least one trading arranger, which is entitled to that in accordance with the national laws;

2) if information about their prices (quotations) is published in mass media (including electronic) or may be presented by trading arranger or another authorized person to any interested party within three years upon the date of transaction with the securities;

3) if market quotation is given on them, where it is provided for by the relevant national laws.

For the purpose of this clause, national laws are understood as laws of the state, on the territory of which securities circulate (civil transactions are performed that entail transfer of title to the securities, including that beyond the organized securities market).

For the purpose of taxation, market price of securities that circulate on the organized securities market is actual price of sale or other disposal of securities, if this price is in the range of minimum and maximum transaction prices (price range) with the said security registered by the trading arranger on the securities market as of the date of the relevant transaction. If transaction is performed through the trading arranger, transaction date should be understood as the date of trading, where the relevant transaction with the security was carried out. In case of security sale outside the organized securities market, transaction date is the date of determining all the essential conditions of the security transfer, i.e. the date of agreement execution.

In case of sale of securities that circulate on the organized securities market at the price below minimum price of transactions on the organized securities market, minimum price of transaction on the organized securities market is taken to determine financial result.

Accrued interest (coupon) yield is understood as a part of interest (coupon) yield, payment of which is provided for by the terms of the issue of such security to be calculated in proportion to the number of days lapsed from the date of the security issue or the date of previous coupon yield payment to the transaction date (security transfer date).

As to securities that do not circulate on the organized securities market, actual price of sale or other disposal of securities is taken for the purpose of taxation, provided at least one of the following conditions is met:

1) if actual price of the relevant transaction is within the range of prices on analogous (identical, similar) security registered by the trading arranger on the securities market as of the transaction date or the date of the nearest trading that took place before the day of the relevant transaction, if trading on such securities was carried out with the trading arranger at least one time over the last 12 months;

2) if deviation of actual price of the relevant transaction is within the range of 20 percent upwards or downwards from the average weighted price of analogous (identical, similar) security calculated by the trading arranger on the securities market in accordance with the rules specified by it based on the results of trading as of the date of such transaction or the date of the immediately following trading that took place prior to the relevant transaction date, if trading on such securities was carried out with the trading arranger at least one time over the last 12 months.

If no information about results of trading on analogous (identical, similar) securities is available, actual transaction price is taken for the purpose of taxation, if the said price differs by more than 20 percent from the estimated price of such security, which may be determined as of the date of transaction with the security taking into account specific conditions of the transaction made, peculiarities of security circulation and price, as well as other indicators, information about which may form the basis for such determination. To determine estimated price of a share by the taxpayer itself or with involvement of an appraiser, methods of evaluation provided for by the laws of the Russian Federation for determining estimated price must be applied; to determine estimated price of a debenture, refinance rate of the Central Bank of the Russian Federation may be used. If the taxpayer determines estimated price of a share by itself, the method of evaluation applied must be fixed in the taxpayer's accounting policy.

Income of a shareholder taxpayer, which sells shares received by it upon increase of the joint stock company's authorized capital, is determined as the difference between the selling price and initially paid share cost adjusted taking into account changes in number of shares resulting from increase in the authorized capital.

Tax base on transactions with securities is determined by the taxpayer separately, except for tax base on transactions with securities, which is determined by professional participants of the securities market. Taxpayers (except for professional participants of the securities market that carry out dealer activities) determine tax base on transactions with securities that circulate on the organized securities market separately from tax base on transactions with securities that do not circulate on the organized securities market.

In case of sale or other disposal of securities, issue securities to be disposed are evaluated by the first-in first-out (FIFO) method; non-issue securities to be disposed are evaluated at actual value of every security.

Taxpayers that have incurred loss (losses) from transactions with securities in the previous taxation period or previous taxation periods are entitled to reduce tax base on transactions with securities in the reporting (taxation) period (carry the said losses forward) in the procedure and on the conditions specified in Article 283 of the Tax Code.

Losses from transactions with securities that do not circulate on the organized securities market incurred in the previous taxation period(s) may be referred to reduction of tax base on transactions with such securities, which is determined in the reporting (taxation) period. Losses from transactions with securities that circulate on the organized securities market incurred in the previous taxation period(s) may be referred to reduction of tax base on transactions of sale of securities of this category.

Losses incurred in the relevant reporting period from transactions with securities that circulate on the organized securities market and securities that do not circulate on the organized securities market are carried forward separately by the said categories of securities within the range of profit received from transactions with such securities.

If interest yield on debentures of any kind, including participating bonds, is received by a foreign entity that conducts business in the Russian Federation through a permanent representative office, tax on such yield is assessed and withheld by tax agent. If source of income is a person that carries out transactions on agency agreement or any other similar agreement for the benefit of the taxpayer, responsibilities of tax agent are performed by the person that actually pays income to the foreign entity that does not conduct business through its permanent representative office in the Russian Federation.

If tax agent of a foreign entity pays income, which in accordance with international treaties (agreements) is taxed in the Russian Federation at reduced rates, assessment and withholding of tax on income is carried out by the tax agent at the relevant reduced rates, provided the foreign entity furnishes the tax agent with a confirmation provided for by clause 1, Article 312 of the Tax Code of the Russian Federation. In case income is paid by Russian banks on transactions with foreign banks, no confirmation of permanent location of a foreign bank in the state, with which there is an international treaty (agreement) to govern taxation is required, if such location is confirmed by data in directories open to public use.

Amount of tax on income from participation in entities (dividends) is determined in accordance with the following provisions.

If the source of taxpayer's income is a foreign entity, the amount of tax in relation to dividends received is determined by the taxpayer itself based on the amount of dividends received and the rate of 15%.

Taxpayers that receive dividends from a foreign entity, including that through a permanent representative office of a foreign entity in the Russian Federation, are not entitled to reduce the amount of tax assessed in accordance with Article 275 of the Tax Code of the Russian Federation by the amount of tax assessed and paid at source of income, unless otherwise provided for by the international treaty.

If the source of taxpayer's income is a Russian entity, the said entity is deemed to be tax agent and determines the amount of tax taking into account provisions of clause 2, Article 275 of the Tax Code.

The amount of tax to be withheld from income of a taxpayer that receives dividends is assessed by the tax agent based on the total amount of tax assessed in the procedure specified in clause 2, Article 275 of the Tax Code, and share of every taxpayer in the total amount of dividends.

Total amount of tax is determined as product of the tax rate of 9% and the difference between the amount of dividends distributable among shareholders over the current taxation period reduced by the amount of dividends payable by the tax agent in accordance with clause 3, Article 275 of the Tax Code in the current taxation period, and amount of dividends received by tax agent itself in the current reporting (taxation) period and previous reporting (taxation) period, unless such amounts of dividends were earlier taken into account in calculations to determine taxable income in the form of dividends. If the difference obtained is negative, neither responsibility to pay tax arises, nor compensation from the budget takes place.

If a Russian entity – tax agent pays dividends to a foreign entity and (or) individual who is not resident of the Russian Federation, tax base of the taxpayer that receives dividends is determined on each such payment as amount of dividends paid, and the rate of 15% or 30% is applied.
